Breast and Cosmetic Implant Registry

The registry will benefit you and others if there is ever a recall and ensure your and other patients' overall safety.

What do I need to do?

Your surgeon should give you a leaflet containing more information about the registry. If you want your data to be added, fill in the short consent form.

How will my information be used?

The registry will record your details and use them to trace you in the event of an implant recall or other safety concern relating to your specific type of implant.

The registry will also be used to identify possible complications by highlighting any specific issues relating to implants.
